An exciting world of learning

This week, we have observed time to reflect on Remembrance Sunday and what it means. We had 2 minutes silence as a school in a specially timed assembly, Mr Quick's class created some lovely poppies as a reminder of this.

We have a busy and exciting week ahead. We will all be looking at being kind and getting along as part of this year's antibullying week, the theme this year is #BeKind. As a school we will be learning more about what bullying is (and isn't) and what we do as a school to support all children.

Wednesday is No Pens Day Wednesday. We will be joining schools across the country for No Pens Day Wednesday. It will be a whole day without writing, and a chance to focus on developing children's oracy - their speaking and listening skills. Ask your child to tell you about it!

Fundraising

We recently had a no uniform day in aid of See Change, a local homeless charity. We raised a total of £258.34 - a big thank you for your support with this. The children have had assemblies about this cause and were very keen to help.

This Friday we are having a no uniform day in aid of Children in Need.

Introducing...

This is PCSO Hayley Bickford, she will be based onsite every Wednesday from the beginning of next term. We plan to arrange parent surgeries and lots of engagement work with pupils and families. Watch this space for further updates about this!

Homework

Homework is available on our website each Friday - thank you for your ongoing support with this. It benefits the children to have their education supplemented and prioritised by parents and carers. The link is:
